Spirit Airlines to Add Service to San Juan from PHL

PHILADELPHIA – Low-cost carrier Spirit Airlines will add daily, year-round non-stop service from Philadelphia International Airport (PHL) to San Juan (SJU) starting May 23, 2019.

“San Juan is a popular destination for vacationers as well as locals who have family and friends in Puerto Rico,” said Airport CEO Chellie Cameron. “This is great news for travelers in the region who want to visit this beautiful island. We are pleased that Spirit has added San Juan to their non-stop service from Philadelphia, and we look forward to more flights to more cities.”

The San Juan service is scheduled to start 3 weeks after Spirit is set to launch seasonal flights to New Orleans. In December, Spirit added seasonal non-stop service from Philadelphia to Fort Myers and Tampa.

The Florida-based airline, which frequently touts its “Ultra-Low Fares,” began service out of Philadelphia in 2013. This new route will increase Spirit’s annual destinations from PHL to 12.

Currently, American Airlines and Frontier Airlines offer non-stop service to San Juan.

Philadelphia International Airport is owned and operated by the City of Philadelphia. The Airport is a self-sustaining entity that operates without the use of local tax dollars. It is one of the largest economic engines in Pennsylvania, generating an estimated $15.4 billion in spending annually and supporting more than 96,300 full-time jobs for the 11-county Philadelphia MSA.
